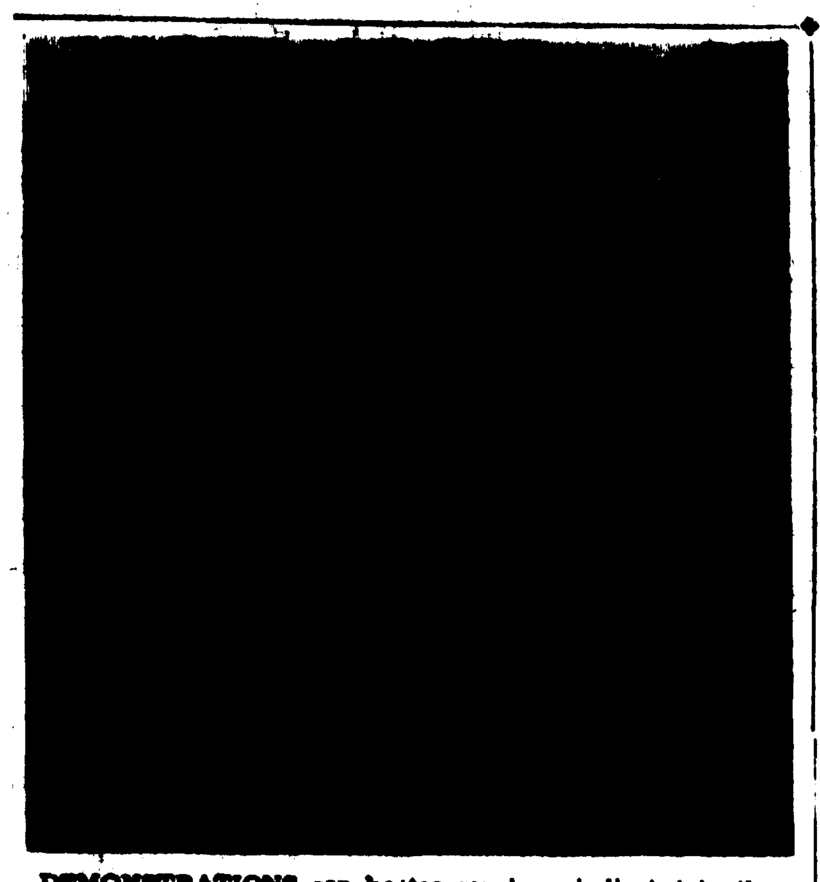
Expect Showdown On School Aid Bill



DEMONSTRATIONS can be too much as indicated in the above picture. A Tufts University coed is carried away by friends after she fainted in the midst of a protest demonstration on the campus Friday. Upwards of 200 students held a sit-in in the administration building to dramatize demands for more black workers on a dormitory construction project. 'Bonus' Funds For Poor Units Recommended

LANSING (AP) — A billion-dollar school aid bill, setting a $25 million parochiaid budget and "bonus payments" for poor school districts, has been recommended for passage in the Michigan Senate.

The bill—one of the major parts of Gov. William Milliken's education package—was reported from the Senate Appropriations Committee Friday along with the announcement that the committee would seek a state Supreme Court ruling on the constitutionality of aid to nonpublic schools.

$40 Million Cut

Chairman Charles O. Zollar, R-Benton Harbor, said the bill cuts some $40 million from the governor's $1.04 billion proposal, changes his proposed formula for fund distribution and includes a new method of increasing dollars for educationally deprived areas.

Debate on the bill, however, was not expected immediately.

Zollar said Senate leaders had agreed not to take up the spending bill, which boosts the current school aid appropriation by some $149 million, until revenue measures were acted on.

On Senate Calendar

Four such measures — two from Milliken's education reform package and two sponsored by Democrats—currently are on the Senate calendar. Others could be reported from the taxation committee next week.

Under pressure from the executive office, the Senate planned to meet Monday night, work through the Tuesday Veterans' Day holiday, and quit Thursday for an expected long weekend.

Debate on the tax bills was scheduled to begin Monday night.

Zollar said the parochiaid provision in the bill specifies that schools do not have to participate in the state aid program if they do not want to.

The section also says that teachers whose salaries are paid in part with state funds will not come under state tenure laws.

Parochiaid Verdict Asked

Written into the provision is a legislative intent to ask for the high court's verdict on parochiaid constitutionality. Zollar said the opinion would be requested after the provision is enacted, but before parochiaid is implemented.

The bonus payment system will be based on the current state aid formula with dividend checks going to districts with high operating millage rates and low valuations.

$30,000 Valuation Goal

The bill sets a $30,000 valuation goal, Zollar said, and asks a minimum of 12 local operating mills. For every mill voted above 12, up to and including 15, the state will allocate $1 per mill per child, multiplied by the difference between $30,000 and the local district's state equalized valuation (SEV).

For example, if a district levying 15 mills had a SEV of $5,000, there would be credit for 3 mills (over 12) and a difference of $25. Multiplying $1 times 3 times $25, the district would receive a bonus of $75 per child.

"This is a real incentive for those districts now levying av-

Missing Boy Sought; Parents Won't Talk

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Where is 8-year-old Jeffrey Lansdown?

"He was left in a big house with lots of stairs," says his 5-year-old sister Jody.

Neighbors in suburban Bell Gardens said they heard he was killed in a traffic accident.

But none of them could say when or where Jeffrey was last seen.

His mother, Betty Fouquet, 26, and her husband, Ronald Fouquet, 31, refused Friday to answer any questions at a Juvenile Court hearing on Jeffrey's whereabouts.

They said their testimony might incriminate them.

Both have been in jail at Bakersfield, 100 miles north, since a few days after Jody was found clinging to a freeway fence.

Authorities said the Fouquets left her there Oct. 25, cold and wet, to wait for a policeman. They said she had been told to say her name was Smith.

The Fouquets, who have two children of their own and expect another, are charged with child abuse and abandonment.

Sheriff's deputies dug up the Fouquet's Bell Gardens back yard where they found bones. Coroner's investigators say they haven't determined whether they are human or animal bones.

When Jody and Jeffrey's father, Billy Joe Lansdown, 34, of Cames Valley, Ore., appeared last week to claim Jody, authorities first heard about Jeffrey.

Lansdown said he and Mrs. Fouquet had four children during their 1960-64 marriage. He already had taken custody of 4-year-old Dina, and 7-year-old Timothy was located at the Fouquet home.

Plane Troubles Brings End To Hijack Plans

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — The flight of a hijacked Argentine jetliner ended in Montevideo early Saturday when the hijacker surrendered to authorities after he was told the plane had "technical difficulties" and could not continue to Cuba.

Victor Garin, chief of Montevideo's Carrasco Airport, said after negotiating with the hijacker aboard the plane that the man had been taken to police headquarters.

The Austral S.A. airliner with 75 persons aboard was hijacked shortly after it took off on a domestic flight from Cordoba, Argentina.

Officials said a man seized a child from the arms of a passenger and threatened to kill him if the pilot refused to obey orders.

The BAC111 twin-jet refueled at Cordoba to refuel, let seven passengers get off, then took off for Montevideo. When it landed at Montevideo's Carrasco Airport, the remaining 64 passengers were permitted to leave the plane while airport chief Victor Garin negotiated with the hijacker.

Local sources said the plane was not in condition to make a long trip due to technical difficulties with its electrical system. They said the hijacker was trying to obtain political asylum in Uruguay instead of going to Cuba, his original destination.

One of the passengers aboard the flight, Jose Gonzales, said the hijacker spoke of having political difficulties in Argentina.

The plane was on a flight from Cordoba to Buenos Aires, 450 miles to the east, when it was commandeered.

Even Santa Claus Needs License To Parade In City

DETROIT (AP)—Santa Claus will need a state parade permit to make his annual Thanksgiving Day entry to Detroit this year.

Santa makes his traditional entry in a sleigh at the end of the big J.L. Hudson Co. parade down Woodward Avenue. In the past, only a city permit was required for the parade but a new state law makes a state permit mandatory for any parade on state trunk highways, such as Woodward, which is U.S. 10.

Officials have little doubt the permit will be granted.

Wallace Asks Treason 'Rap' For Militants

SAIGON (AP) — George Wallace, third-party presidential candidate last year, said today that certain Vietnam war protesters should be put in jail for treason.

The former Alabama governor, arriving here on a fact-finding trip, also indicated broad support for President Nixon's Vietnam policy as spelled out in the President's Nov. 3 speech.

Asked what he thought about the Oct. 15 moratorium against the Vietnam war, Wallace said it was conducted by a group of people "who were conscientious and sincere," although he said he questions their judgment.

"I think it encourages Hanoi," he added. "On the other hand, those few who fly the Communist flag and call for Communist victory are not engaged in an academic freedom but are en[illegible] is an [illegible] I consider treason[illegible]. I think the Justice Department ought to put a stop to those who raise money, blood and clothes for the North Vietnamese.

"I am not talking about humanitarian groups like the Red Cross, but I'm talking about those who say 'I want the Communists to win and defeat the American servicemen,' which is saying I want them killed. I object to that sort of conduct in our country by those few, but I am happy to say (they) represent a very few people."

Asked how the Justice Department could intervene, Wallace said, "I think a person who makes a speech in a college calling for Communist victory, and it is printed in Hanoi, is giving aid and comfort to the enemy of our country and how better can you do that? I think they ought to proceed against him and indict him and he ought to be put in jail for treason."

Wallace said he hopes Nixon's plan to end the war can be implemented "to the extent this war is honorably concluded [illegible] reasonable period of time."

2 Men Arrested For Threatening Nixon

Vietnam War Seen As Link To Miami Plan

MIAMI (AP) — Two men have been arrested in connection with threats on the life of President Nixon. Both threats were linked to the Vietnam war.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Mike Osman said George W. Baker, 51, of Miami, was arrested on a charge of assaulting a federal officer. Osman said John Anthony Baker, 24, of Breezewood, Pa., was charged with threatening the life of the President. Osman said the two were not related.

Pair Arrested, Jailed

Both men, arrested here Thursday shortly before the President arrived for a weekend at his Key Biscayne retreat, were ordered held on $200,000 bond and both remained in jail.

Osman said the Miami man wrote to Nixon in May and said if his son in Vietnam was killed he would kill every federal official he could find, from the President down to members of the local draft board.

Invited Into Home

"Because the President was coming to Florida the Secret Service went to his house Thursday," Osman said, "and he invited them inside."

Osman said Baker took a high-powred rifle with a telescopic sight from behind his chair, "loaded it and pointed it at them," saying he was "ready to discuss whatever they had to discuss with him."

Wanted Since Oct. [illegible]

A Secret Service official in Washington, D.C., Jack Warner, said John Baker had been wanted since Oct. 20 when a warrant charging he had threatened the President was issued in Pittsburgh. John Baker waived extradition to Pennsylvania Thursday.

The charge alleged that John Baker told a law enforcement officer in Pittsburgh Oct. 2: "Remember my name because I will assassinate the President if the troops aren't out of Vietnam by 1970."

Nixon, Congress Clash Foreseen Over Water Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress and President Nixon appear headed toward a clash over spending for water projects, and the extent of their disagreement will be disclosed early next week.

The President, as part of his anti-inflation program, has called for a cutback or slowdown in such projects while Congress obviously is in a some[illegible] mood.

The House already has added some $80 million to Nixon's proposals for the flood control, irrigation, navigation and other water projects of the Army Engineers and the Reclamation Bureau.

Now the Senate appears ready to add more funds in a bill to be unveiled Monday.

Chairman Allen J. Ellender, D-La., of the Senate public works appropriations subcommittee, said his bill will carry some additions, particularly in the area of hurricane protection projects.

Officials, Marchers 1,000 Feet Apart

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice Department officials and war protest leaders were about 1,000 feet from agreement today on the proposed route of the Nov. 15 mass march through Washington.

White House scurity officials adamantly insistd such a large group—estimates range from 100,000 to 500,000—should not be permitted closer than that to the executive mansion.

The Justice Department, after consultation with the White House, agreed Friday to let the mass march proceed next Saturday as long as the route is Constitution Avenue and the demonstrators don't make a side trip to the presidential residence.

But the New Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam rejected the government proposal, again saying that any plan must allow marchers to pass in front of the White House.

The New Mobilization said demonstrators feel they must make a symbolic gesture of protest to the policy-making executive branch of government.

The war protest leaders remained steadfast in demanding a swing by the White House and they said Deputy Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst knew their position before he offered the latest government proposal.

Kleindienst said Friday the department believes "that the demonstrators have a clear right to meet in Washington and to petition the government for a redress of their grievances.

He said his plan, under which the march would proceed down Constitution to 17th Street and then to the Washington Monument area, would satisfy both goals.

The route was proposed by Kleindienst after day-long meetings with march leaders and a separate session with representatives of various capital security forces, including police, the Secret Service and the Army.

Kleindienst said the government is willing to continue negotiations on other route alternatives. Both sides have reached agreement on all other aspects of the three-day demonstration.

Probe Asked In Pentagon Firing

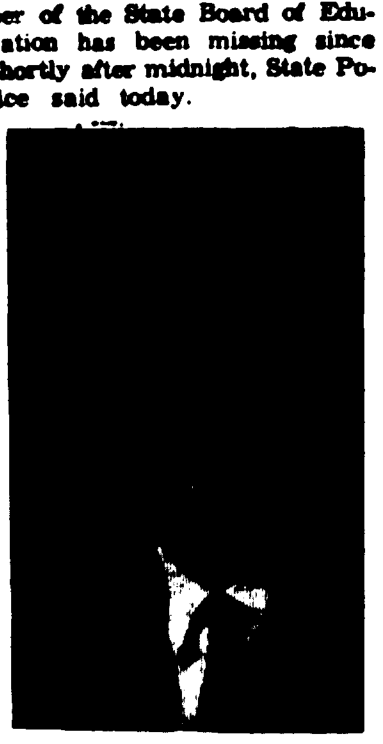
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force has backed away hurriedly from its decision to hire a private cost expert whose firm is linked to the maker of the controversial and costly C5A cargo plane.

But while the Air Force was moving to cut off criticism about the hiring of John J. Dyment, more trouble was brewing for the Pentagon because of the firing of cost expert A. E. Fitzgerald.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., chief congressional opponent of the C5A, said he will open hearings soon to learn why the Pentagon fired Fitzgerald, the man who revealed the C5A would cost at least $2 billion more than official Air Force estimates.

Fear Augenstein In Plane Crash

CHARLOTTE (AP) — A twin-engine plane piloted by a member of the State Board of Education has been missing since shortly after midnight, State Police said today.



Dr. Leroy Augenstein

The plane piloted by Dr. Leroy Augenstein, a Michigan State University professor, was due at the Charlotte airport Friday night. Augustine contacted the Jackson airport at 12:24 a.m. today and asked for a report of weather conditions in the Lansing vicinity, State Police said. Augenstein has not been heard from since he was advised the weather was bad, police said.

If he landed the plane at another airport because of poor weather he should have notified authorities, said State Police in Lansing.

Augenstein, who keeps his twin-angine Apache at the Charlotte facility, left Charlotte at 6 p.m. Friday for Richmond, Ind. and was due to return the same night.

Fog and rain have prevented the launching of an air search today, said State Police, who hope for clearer skies by early afternoon.

A ground search was launched today in the Fort Wayne, Ind., area in the belief that Augenstein may have turned back because of the weather. The man in the tower at the Jackson airport said it was his feeling that Augenstein may have turned back.

Augenstein was elected to the State Board of Education in 1966. His term expires Jan. 1, 1975. He was elected on the Republican ticket and maintains a residence at Holt.

Well Known Here

Dr. Augenstein is widely known here because of his many visits to Escanaba, the last in August of this year when he discussed with Delta County Republicans his prospects as a possible candidate for the U.S. Senate against Sen. Phil Hart. He was then on tour by air of the Upper Peninsula — and was flying his own plane.

Will The Real Pvt. Jenkins Return?

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (AP) — A 16-year-old youth masqueraded as a Marine private for two weeks, answering roll call, being paid, doing jobs and being punished as Pvt. Robert A. Jenkins, Marine Corps officials say.

Marines said Friday that Ledell Parker of Anderson, Ind., surrendered to Los Angeles area police Oct. 23 and told them he was Pvt. Jenkins, absent without authorization from the Marine Corps. Pvt. Jenkins, also from Indiana, was and still is AWOL.

Shanghaied?

Parker claims he was "shanghaied" by the Marines after being arrested by police because they found him with inadequate identification and carrying a Marine's sea bag.

Parker said he maintained his proper identity throughout.

But the Marines said Parker, who didn't have an identification card, was able to rattle off Jenkins' seven-digit service number and sign Jenkins' name to pay vouchers.

Minor Punishment

Parker was given office hours, a minor punishment, on Oct. 27 for being AWOL and a $50 fine was suspended. The Marines said the youth signed Jenkins' name to the unit punishment book.

The next day he was charged with failing to obey an order and was sent to correctional custody Oct. 30 by his commanding officer.

An official there said the youth "was acting up" and was transferred to the base brig Oct 31. Early the next day he was treated by a corpsman for a nosebleed and later was admitted to the hospital with a slight fever.

Dental Charts Compared

Dental charts were compared Tuesday and it was found that the man was not Jenkins. Parker gave investigators information about himself which was verified by police in Anderson.

"The individual was turned back to the hospital and Parker was told the afternoon of Nov. 5 that he was a civilian; however, they would continue to treat him if he agreed," a hospital spokesman said.

Parker Disappears

But Wednesday, Marines said, Parker disappeared from the hospital and he was apprehended by military police for allegedly impersonating a Marine sergeant in front of the women's Marine barracks.

"He was very belligerent and attempted to assault the apprehending military police," the spokesman said.

The youth was released to San Diego juvenile authorities late Wednesday. Juvenile hall officials refused to give information and said the youth could not be questioned.

Marine officials said they did not know whether Parker and the real Jenkins were acquainted.

Officials refused to release Jenkins hometown, age or other identification.

[illegible] A Plate Dinner:

Gafner Honored By Many Friends

The many friends of John Gafner, including a number of men in high places in government, contributed to some of the nicest gifts a retiring officeholder could have—good wishes, a $6,000 automobile, and about $3,000 to buy gasoline to run the Lincoln Continental.

The recent retirement party for Gafner, a native of Escanaba, was held in Lansing where Gafner has served the State of Michigan for the past 42 years. He has been state property manager since 1948 and will retire from his $24,742 post on Dec. 20.

The Gafner family is a big one, and John's sisters and brothers are William, August and Rudolph of Escanaba; Harry of California; and four sisters, Mrs. Ewald Nelson (Catherine) and Mrs. George (Charlotte) Bowden of Escanaba; Mrs. Hans (Rose) Gudwer of Bark River Rte. 1 and Mrs. Q. T. (Jody) Wharton of Lansing.

John Gafner

Gafner has said that he and Mrs. Gafner plan to spend a few months in Florida and will return in Lansing. "I expect to be back there in some capacity," he told the Escanaba Daily Press.

Dignitaries There

The tribute dinner honoring Gafner cost $100 a plate and at least two distinguished contributors among the 127 sent money with regrets they were unable to attend. U. S. Senator Phil Hart and former Gov. John B. Swainson said they were sorry they couldn't make it.

Among the dignitaries who gathered to honor Gafner were ex-Governor Murray D. Van Wagoner, Chief State Appeals Judge T. John Lesinski, Michigan State University executive Vice President Jack Breslin, MSU athletic director Biggie Munn and others.

The event received coverage from the Grand Rapids Press, whose columnist William Kulsea wrote:

"Gafner is a Democrat, always has been. He was so popular in the mid-1940's his party wanted him to run for governor, later for secretary of state. He felt he was too important to the party in the job he was doing. Even when the statehouse was loaded with Republicans, Gafner remained a Democratic oasis surrounded by the GOP."

Friends Remember

Col. Arthur A. Holmes, who served as toastmaster at the party for Gafner, said:

"This affair was arranged by Johnny's friends entirely on the basis of long-time personal ties. Most of the people didn't have fancy titles when they came to know him."

Changes in the state constitution whittled away at Gafner's responsibilities. As Kulsea of the Grand Rapids Press described it:

"His friends didn't forget, though. This week they put on a farewell-to-Gafner bash that also helped remind them there never will be another John Gafner in state government. The system today won't permit it."

Republicans Eye Professional Fund Raiser

DETROIT (AP)— Republican party officials are considering hiring a professional fund-raising firm to pull the Michigan GOP out of a $150,000 deficit.

State Chairman William McLaughlin and the GOP's Michigan finance chairman, Charles Kirsch, said Friday night that exploratory talks have been held with professional fund-raisers.

McLaughlin said officials were seeking to determine "the most modern techniques of raising money" but no decisions had been made on what methods will be applied in Michigan.

"One of the possibilities has to be professional fund-raising," Kirsch said, "but no one firm has been singled out and that decision has not been made."

WJR, a Detroit radio station, said prime attention was being given to Ralph Goettler Associates, a Columbus, Ohio, firm which handles the task of filling Ohio Republican coffers.

The station also said hiring of a professional fundraiser would mean closing the United Republican Fund of southeast Michigan.

McLaughlin described as "strictly speculation" whether the United Republican Fund might be closed and noted that he was one of the founders of this group.

He said officials talked with Ralph Goettler "about two weeks ago to ask, 'how do you work, what would you do if you came to Michigan?' "

McLaughlin said several fund-raising groups "would be considered if the decision were made to go to a professional

Kirsch, who lives in Sturgis, denied consideration was being given to any moves to close the United Republican Fund, a group which primarily gathers money in the Detroit metropolitan area.

"We've considered almost the opposite, in fact," Kirsch said. "We've considered trying to unite the fund for the whole state."

Both Kirsch and McLaughlin confirmed that officials were unhappy about the small amounts of money turned over to the state party by the United Republican Fund. Kirsch said the "largest amount of the problem (in raising state party funds) is the failure of Southeast Michigan" to supply contributions.

1,000th School Built By American Children

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the past five years, American children have been working on a foreign aid program of their own—helping build schools in developing nations.

Today the program reached a landmark with announcement that the 1,000th school to be constructed under the School Partnership Program will be in Matrincha, Brazil. The funds were raised by Memorial High School in St. Mary's, Ohio, a city of 7,800 in the western part of the state.

Under the unique program, sponsored by the Peace Corps, more than 700 schools—most with only one room—have been built already in 44 countries with funds raised by 1,300 U.S. schools in 47 states.

The school partnership program began in 1963 when Gene Bradley, then editor of General Electric's public affairs magazine, Forum, was elected president of the Rosendale Elementary School Parent-Teacher Association in Niskayuna, N.Y.

The school was so well equipped that Bradley was warned by his predecessor his biggest problem would be finding useful things to do for it.

Several weeks later, on a business trip to Washington, Bradley asked a friend who had headed a U.S. foreign-aid mission in the Near East what he would do with a thousand dollars.

The friend replied he would build a school.

Bradley returned home, discussed the idea with his PTA board and was given solid backing.

Back in Washington, he sought advice and learned from Sargent Shriver, then head of the Peace Corps, that the idea was suited for the volunteer agency's self-help program.

Selected as the site for the first school was Casablanca, Colombia, a rural village with 80 school-age children and no school.

The children at Rosendale raised $800 at a fair and $350 on other projects which not only bought the materials required to build Casablanca's La Escuela Rosendale but also permitted the adoption of another Colombian village.

The Peace Corps encourages the schools in the two countries to exchange ideas and materials so that the youngsters get to know each other better.

In one project during the summer of 1968, students from Somerville, N.J., went to Peru to help with the building of the school.

The Peace Corps also tries to get host country citizens to visit the U.S. schools that have raised money for communities in their own nation.

Halloween Hoax Puts Uncle Jack In 'Stir'

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Jack Thomas is out of jail and he isn't bitter against the young girls who sent him there for three days.

Jack Thomas' stay in jail began last week after six girls claimed he gave one of them an apple with a razor in it on Halloween. Some neighbors couldn't believe that the man children call Uncle Jack and badger for cookies could have done such a thing.

But others threatened to burn the unemployed foundry worker out of his apartment; some teen-age boys threatened to beat him up and Municipal Judge Benjamin Segal glowered down at Thomas and told him that there should be "a whipping post for people like you."

The Torresdale man was put in jail on $10,000 bail on charges of intent to maim and cruelty to children. He was released Wednesday.

But Uncle Jack had an unknown friend, Matthew Gielocki, a guard at the housing project where he lived. Gielocki, 44, couldn't believe Thomas could do such a thing and started his own investigation.

Under Gielock's questioning Grace Wiecinkey, 12, who made the claims, admitted her story was a hoax. Grace allegedly told her mother that Thomas had given her the booby-trapped apple and a girl friend Debbie Connors, 13, backed her up.

The girls admitted to concocting the tale because Thomas had given one of them an apple with a bruise on it.

Grace, Debbie, Grace's sister Carole, 14; Jean Hammond, 10; Catherine O'Leary, 10, and Jean Twillery, 11, were taken to the Youth Study Center and then released to custody of their parents for a hearing before a juvenile court judge in about two weeks for allegedly falsifying a police report.

"I'm a parent and a grandfather myself," Thomas said. "How could I be mad at someone who is just trying to protect their youngsters? Kids, you know, sometimes do goofy things."

Thomas was worried about the girls. "I don't want to see them come to grief," he said. "I just want them to have an understanding, somewhere along the line, so that they know the seriousness of something like this. But if they want to be friends of mine, I'd be their friend anytime."

Seniors Rehearse Three-Act Play

A three-act play, "Father's Been To Mars" written by William Dalzell, will be presented by the senior class of Trenary High School in the school gymnasium at 8 p.m. Monday, Nov. 24.

Deer Responsible For Two Mishaps

Stray deer were responsible for two traffic mishaps Friday resulting in moderate damage to two cars.

According to State Police, David McLeod, 20, Wilson, struck and killed a deer on County Rd. 557 at 8:30 p.m. McLeod escaped injury.

A second crash was reported to troopers when Alfred Dahl, 47, Rte. 1, Cornell, collided with a deer on County Rd. 426 at 10:10 p.m. Dahl also escaped unhurt.

Veteran's Day Observance Here Tuesday

A salute to the nation's newest generation of war veterans will be emphasized during Escanaba's observance of Veteran's Day, Nov. 11, Post Commander John L. Carlson of Cloverland Post 82 of the American Legion announced today.

Although the young men and women who have worn their nation's uniform during the Vietnam era will receive special recognition, Veteran's Day in Escanaba will also honor all who have served this country, Carlson added.

In urging participation by all citizens of Escanaba, he pointed out that Veterans' Day ceremonies here would be part of a holiday honoring the nation's veterans and dedicated to the attainment of an honorable world peace.

The local observance is being sponsored by Veteran's Council of Escanaba. All veterans attending the 11 a.m. ceremonies are to meet at City Hall at 10:30 a.m., the American Legion is sponsoring a dinner at 7 p.m. at the clubhouse.

Commander Carlson urges that every effort be made to make Veteran's Day an occasion of sincere expression of patriotism, calling upon all citizens and business firms to observe Veteran's Day with the display of the flag of the United States as a reaffirmation of national unity, a rededication of support to the nation in her defense of the cause of freedom and especially, recongnition and appreciation of newest generation of veterans whose willingness to serve the national purpose is in the finest tradition of our great nation.

Commander Carlson also pointed out that Veteran's Day would mark the conclusion of the official observance of the American Legion's Golden Anniversary.

Veterans Plan Benefit Fund Apple Tag Days

"Apple Tag Days" will be held next week Friday and Saturday, Nov. 12-13, sponsored by the Veterans of World War I Barracks 118 and Auxiliary, it is announced by Commander Roy Cartwright.

Funds derived from the sale will be used for the benefit of World War I veterans, their widows, men in hospitals, house-bound veterans and those in need of assistance.

Commander Cartwright said the "Apple Tag Days" are also a public reminder of the valorous service of the "boys of 1917 and 1918" on behalf of a free America.

SOA Requests News Media For Meeting

The Delta County Citizens Committee to Save Our Air announced today that it welcomed an opportunity to discuss the proposed clean air ordinance with the Delta County Board of Supervisors and their legal council. The Committee refused, however, to become part of a secret meeting which has been proposed by the County Board.

The meeting in question is to take place next Wednesday night at the Delta County Building. It was called to discuss the legal aspects of the proposed clean air ordinance prior to the public hearing on the ordinance set for Nov. 18.

In its letter to the Committee, the County Board said, "This is not a public meeting. It will be limited in attendance to Board members and their legal counsel, a representative of the "Citizens to Save Our Air Committee," a representative of Mead Corporation, and a representative of Harnischfeg Corporation." The letter went on to ask the "Save Our Air" group to designate who would be its representative.

John Walbridge, spokesman for the committee, told the Daily Press this morning that the "Save Our Air" group will not meet with the Board without the news media in attendance. "Hundreds of persons are counting on us to carry this ordinance through, and a secret meeting wouldn't be fair to them," Walbridge said.

"We realize that discussions of the legal aspects of the ordinance should be discussed by a small group, but citizens should have the right to hear what is discussed between elected representatives and a citizens group requesting an ordinance," he said.

"Our activities on behalf of the ordinance have all been open to the public and the news media and we feel a subject so important to the community should be open to citizens through representation of the news media," Walbridge added.

In his letter of reply Walbridge wrote: "We appreciate your invitation to attend the private meeting and we welcome the opportunity to exchange views on a most crucial issue to the citizens of Delta County, the proposed air pollution ordinance."

"However, we respectfully request that this meeting not exclude the news media of the community."

"We also respectfully request that this meeting be between the Delta County Board of Supervisors, the elected representatives of the people, and its legal counsel, and an equal number of the Delta County Citizens Commitee to Save Our Air and their legal counsel."

The Committee also said in the letter that it felt the County Board was not being fair to area industry when it invited only certain firms to be represented at the meeting without allowing all industries that the ordinance may affect to be in attendance.

"Unless we hear otherwise, we will go to the meeting assuming that our terms will be met," Walbridge said.

Tickets Ready For Musical

Tickets for the annual Escanaba Area High School musical, to be presented on Dec. 1, 2, 4, and 6, will go on sale Monday.

All seats are reserved for the four-night run of the production, Irving Berlin's "Annie Get Your Gun."

Reservations may be made by calling ST 6-1054 or ST 6-7634. Escanaba Area High School choir members also will be soliciting patrons.

Conrad Beck and Peter Adamini, co-directors for the musical, said that about 75 to 100 students are involved in the production, including the cast, crew, and orchestra, and with all indications from the rehearsals thus far, the show will be a rollicking success.

"Annie Get Your Gun" is the story from a portion of the life of a famous American, Annie Oakley. Her rise to fame as a trick-shot artist with the famous Buffalo Bill Wild West Shows, and eventual world tours with this group, is the basis for the musical.

Many of the musical numbers are well known popular tunes from the 40's. Among them are: "They Say That Falling in Love is Wonderful," "You Can't Get a Man With a Gun," "The Girl That I Marry," and probably the most famous of all production numbers, "There's No Business Like Show Business."

Patrons are urged to get tickets early as previous musicals have sold out in a few days.

Salmon [illegible] Good In Area

The Whitefish River, Whitefish Bay, Little Bay de Noc and Thompson Bay continue to produce fine catches of coho salmon, according to reports and creel surveys conducted by the Department of Natural Resources and the Daily Press.

The Whitefish River below Bill's Creek is still the hottest fishing spot, although fish biologist Dave Johnson has informed the Daily Press that heavy concentrations of salmon can be found in Whitefish Bay and just below Johnson's rapids in the Whitefish River.

"There is also a heavy concentration of coho in the Whitefish below Haymeadow Creek," Johnson said. He believes the Haymeadow group to be larger than the amount of fish below Bill's Creek.

At Thompson, anglers are having good luck on fish that are actually striking their lures. Silver-colored coho in prime condition are being caught. "Best bet here is a yellow-colored spoon," said one very successful Thompson angler.

Big browns and some steelhead are beginning to show up in the creels of anglers in both areas.

Education Week Begins Sunday

Students, teachers and citizens are sitting in, walking out and demanding more from the schools of the nation, but the crisis they create is healthy, according to the sponsors of American Education Week.

The annual observance begins Sunday and Escanaba Area Schools are joining the observances with a week of activities in the schools.

Conferences between parents and teachers are scheduled Monday and Tuesday in city schools with kindergarten conferences throughout the district planned Wednesday. Thursday conferences are scheduled in townships schools.

Visitation also is planned Wednesday at the High School with parents and citizens invited to stop anytime during the school day to visit classes. Persons visiting the school should go to the office for directions to individual rooms.

An open house at the Junior High is scheduled from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. Thursday.

The event will begin at 7:30 in the William W. Oliver Auditorium with a program featuring the 7th grade band and an 8th grade home economics demonstration. Classroom visitation is scheduled from 8 to 9 p. m. with a coffee period to follow.

Theme of American Education Week is "Better Education: Your Job."

The observance is sponsored by the National Education Association, the American Legion, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, and the U. S. Office of Education. Its purpose is to increase public understanding and support of the schools and to encourage parents to visit schools at least once a year.

Escanaba Area Supt. Luther M. Barrett said that action designed to upgrade the quality of education in America must be preceded by information.

He stressed the need for all citizens to find out how much financial support the schools are receiving and where it is coming from, what amount of money per pupil is spent and how it is spent.

Two Injured In Traffic Mishhaps

The injury of two persons, neither seriously, in traffic mishaps in Escanaba is reported by city police.

Wendy L. Westerberg, 1 year old, passenger in a car driven by Shirlee A. Westerberg, 19, of 324 S. 8th St., was hurt when the Westerberg auto and a car driven by Earl H. Closser, Marquette, collided at 1st Ave. S. and 10th St. The accident occured at 9:33 a.m. Friday.

Clarence E. Larson, 59, Wells, was hurt when his car and a car driven by Francis E. Laundre, 19, of Escanaba Rte. 1, collided at Washington Ave., and Highway US 2-41. Laundre was ticketed for failing to stop in the assured clear distance. The accident occurred at 5:10 p.m. Thursday.

Lengthy Birthday Party Slated For Noel Coward

LONDON (AP) — Noel Coward, blithe spirit of the British theater, will be 70 years old next month and virtually everybody in the arts is getting ready for a week-long birthday celebration.

Coward spends most of his time in Jamaica or Switzerland these days to escape taxes, but he will be here for the festivities.

"It's holy week," he said puckishly.

The jam-packed week of nothing but Noel Coward—his birthday is Dec. 16—is impressive. British television is reviving some of the maestro's great productions—"Bitter Sweet", "Blithe Spirit," "Hay Fever."

The National Theatre is reviving the film Coward likes best of all his 60 years' output as actor, composer, director and producer. That is the wartime classic "In Which we Serve."

A battalion of celebrities will converge on the Savoy to honor Coward at a charity ball, proceeds of which will go to actors' charities.

Coward has turned out a major production for each of the 60 years he has been in the theater.

He's had his flops but mostly his hand cranked out hits.

As for honors, Coward turned down knighthood 20 years ago. He recalled: "I was told that the king (George VI) would like to honor me and I replied that while I would of course do anything he wished I would rather he didn't offer me a knighthood."

Half serious, half in jest, Coward said he thought plain Noel Coward on the theater marquee was better billing than Sir Noel.

Once again the rumor is spreading that the queen's New Year's list just might include Coward's knighthood. Neither the palace nor the prime minister's office, which makes up the list of honors, is likely to comment.

The Noel Coward week was triggered by a biography of Coward, "A Talent to Amuse," by Sheridan Morley, son of actor Robert Morley and grandson of Gladys Cooper.

Coward finds it hard to believe he is approaching 70. Physically he seems sound as a rum. Mentally he is sharp as ever.

At repartee he's left a trail of losers.

None bit the dust harder than the late Hannen Swaffer, a Fleet Street journalistic giant who called on Coward in his dressing room. Swaffer said, "I have always maintained that you act much better than you write."

Said Coward: "How odd, I'm always saying the same about you."

'Outreach' Art Show To Open

"I paint out of urgency, which makes the way I paint an organic development rather than a calculated one."

These are the words of Elaine de Kooning, one of the artists whose work will be featured when Project Outreach in Marquette presents "Crosscurrents, U.S.A.," in Olson Library at Northern Michigan University.

The exhibition of 38 paintings by 19 contemporary artists opens Wednesday and will remain on public view more than three weeks. Gallery hours will be 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. weekdays and 1 to 5 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays. There is no admission charge.

Works included in the show have been borrowed directly from the artists. Some were so enthusiastic in response to the Detroit Institute of Art's plan to mount a representational show for its Outreach program that they lent paintings never before seen publicly.

Each artist receives an honorarium of $100 per painting as compensation for taking his work off the market for the year's tour. This system is practiced in Europe, but it is new to the United States.

Paintings in "Crosscurrents" are for sale, at prices ranging from $750 to $18,000, but purchasers must agree to allow the paintings to remain with the show for the duration of its Outreach schedule in Michigan.

With the paintings are photographs of the artists and their own statements about their work. These indicate that representational art can be interpreted in many ways — from the realism of John Koch, who has loaned two works, to the imagery of Robert Kaupelis, with three paintings in the exhibition.

Outreach is a three-year federally-funded experiment to extend the resources of a great metropolitan museum to geographically distant communities which have no museums of their own. Marquette is the only participating Upper Peninsula city.

'Bonus' Funds For Poor Units Recommended

erage millage to partake of the bonus plan," Zollar said. "Those that are and don't have the SEV will have the opportunity to catch up."

He called the plan the "closest thing to equity you can get under the present system."

Present plans for helping children in educationally deprived areas are "not working," Zollar maintained.

$150 Per Child

He outlined a $22.5 million program set up by the Appropriations Committee which could provide $150 per child to schools where pupils show lower than average results on statewide assessment tests.

The tests, being conducted through an already-funded State Education Department program, will provide "the first adequate basis to start a program for the educationally deprived to bring them up to standard," Zollar said.

He said the funds would be doled out, expectedly on a school-by-school basis, until the total appropriated for the program was gone.

Program Reduction

The Appropriations Committee cut $10 million for a middle cities program, $6 million for remedial reading and $80 million for reduction of student-teacher ratios from the governor's proposal.

Zollar said a leveling off of student population increases—previously expected in 1975—already was showing up and had cut some $20 from finance figures included in Milliken's projections.

These cuts, combined with additions for various programs, make up the nearly $40 million difference between the two versions of the bill.

Briefly Told

Escanaba police have issued traffic court notices to James B. Wells, 725 S. 16th St., speeding; James W. Menard, 817 N. 18th St., no operator's license, registration or proof of insurance; Raymond G. Brault, 114 S. 10th St., reckless driving; and to Calvin D. Marcoe, 1416 N. 16th St., speeding.

The recovery of stolen property from the House of Bargains in Escanaba, including four rifles, radio, tape player and other items is reported by city police following an investigation. The business place was broken into the night of Oct. 31 by a Bark River Rte. 1 boy, 16, who has been transferred to Delta County juvenile court. The father of the boy informed the sheriff's office when he observed his son with a rifle.

Closed Inquest

The ruling by the Massachusetts Supreme Court ordering a closed inquest into the death of Mary Jo Kopechne has great implications for the State of Massachusetts and the United States — most of them bad.

The court ordered that no members of the news media could be present for the hearing, upholding the dispute with the law filed by counsel for Sen. Edward Kennedy. It further ruled that any future inquests in Massachusetts would be subject to the same order.

Strong criticism of the development has been fired by press representatives and justifiably so.

D. Tennant Bryan, publisher of the Richmond, Va., Times-Dispatch and News Leader and chairman of the American Newspaper Publishers Association committee on free press and fair trail, said "only an open inquest can serve the public interest and, indeed, protect the interests of Sen. Kennedy and other parties involved. Only an open inquest can maintain public confidence in the integrity of the judicial process."

Bryan said his committee agrees with a statement by the American Society of Newspaper Editors which said the closed inquest "affronts the cause of justice and the rights of citizens."

* * *

The conflict here, if there is one, is between the Constitutional guarantees to a right to a fair trial and the right of a free press. While the Constitution asserts, however, that Congress shall make no law abridging the freedom of speech or of the press, the affect of the court's ruling is to abridge this freedom.

Bryan pointed out that "neither the public nor the press is at fault" for the intense interest in the death of Miss Kopechne after Sen. Kennedy's car went off a bridge on Chappaquiddick Island last July.

Sen. Kennedy, by virtue of his political position and the reputation of his family, is news himself. His involvement in any accident, much less an accident involving a death, would be news and the circumstances around this accident — his failure to report it immediately and dater his statements to investigators and on national television — only served to strengthen the interest.

The inquest is not a trial. Its sole purpose is to determine the cause of death of Miss Kopechne. And despite what the Massachusetts Supreme Court and Sen. Kennedy's lawyers believe, a public report of the inquest could be of great benefit to the senator.

* * *

In all of the discussion in recent years about the alledged conflict in pre-trial publicity between the right of a person to a fair trial and the right of a free press, the assumption has been that newspaper, radio and television reports could be prejudicial against a person. Seldom is it mentioned that publicity could be prejudicial against the police and rarely is it considered that pre-trial publicity may, in fact, often provides a needed balance.

But the inquest in Massachusetts essentially does not involve pre-trial publicity, although if there is determined later reason to charge Sen. Kennedy it might be construed that way.

The case involves reporting of an official proceeding. Presence of newsmen would help assure a fair proceeding.

In this particular inquest, all interested parties will be competantly represented by legal counsel. But the Supreme Court ruling in this case will apply to all inquests and what will there be to assure that fair practice is followed in other cases.

The public should protest any infringement on open proceedings. Open hearings are the best guarantee of fairness.

Village police and Ontonagon County sheriff's officers are investigating the theft of $1,200 from a safe in the Gamble's store in Ontonagon. Entry to the building was gained by breaking a side window. The safe, located in the rear of the store, was locked in such a fashion that it was easily opened, officers said.

A large flock of migrating ducks, apparently becoming confused during a mid-morning snow squall, made a landing in the east approach of the Poe lock at Sault Ste. Marie and seemed to angrily demand passage into Lake Superior. "They were milling and quacking and heading right for the east gate," Steve Gillotte, who works in the nearby ship reporting room, said. The ducks took off for points south after a 20-minute rest in the protected waters of the lock approach. Gillotte said beavers, sea gulls and pigeons frequently visit the locks area, but this is the first time he has ever seen wild ducks land this close to the structure.

Why Wouldn't There Be New Blood Bath?

BY JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

President Richard Nixon, in his gallant effort to end the U. S. involvement in South Vietnam without selling out an ally, has to contend with students who have never traveled and have no first-hand memory of the crises that have created the pattern of the post-World War II world.

The students, being young, will live and learn, and one hopes it won't be on the beaches of Australia or Hawaii. But what do you do about a man like Averell Harriman, who has spent a lifetime dealing with the Communists and still seems unable to form any valid generalizations from the things he has experienced?

Just after President Nixon had warned his listeners that any sudden Viet Cong takeover in South Vietnam would surely be followed by massacres of the anti-Communist and Catholic populations, Harriman went on the air to hem and haw when asked about the probability of blood baths in case of a U. S. withdrawal.

It was quite impossible to know with certainty what Harriman was driving at, but he seemed to be saying that a coalition government in South Vietnam could be trusted to hold murder to a minimum, and, anyway, he didn't think the Viet Cong would want to kill large numbers of their enemies. He had told the Yale students the same thing the previous week, throwing in a gratuitous slap at columnist Joseph Alsop, who thinks Communists are murderous by conviction.

* * *

Harriman hasn't always been wrong in his predictions of Communist behavior; during World War II he warned Washington that Joseph Stalin intended to take all of Europe that the Russian marshals could get their hands on. But his flashes of good judgment have been intermittent, to say the least.

In 1945 he badgered the Rumanian non-Communist leaders into entering a coalition with Communists. Naturally, the non-Communists didn't live very long to tell the tale, or, if they did, their words were wasted on the silent walls of Joe Stalin's prisons.

It may be quite true that Rumania, being on the lee side of the Soviet armies when World War II was concluded, had no choice save to go Communist. However, Harriman might have warned the non-Communist Rumanians to take a night train to Turkey while the going was still good.

* * *

Harriman didn't do much better when, as our Assistant Secretary of State for Far Eastern Affairs, he had to deal with the "neutralization" of Laos, where he tried to force the local anti-Communists into a coalition.

Again, it could have been true that much of Laos was essentially indefensible; we subsequently found that out in our efforts to keep the North Vietnamese from using the Ho Chi Minh trail. But the point about Harriman is that, out of the depth of his experience, he might have warned President Kennedy that a "cease-fire" in Laos followed by an accommodation with the Communists would have a "domino effect" on neighboring South Vietnam, which was in process of happening until we intervened.

Harriman is now bemoaning the "unrepresentative" character of the Thieu-Ky government in South Vietnam. But, as one of the State Department group that advised John F. Kennedy to get rid of the Diem regime in Saigon, Harriman bears some of the blame for whatever has taken place in South Vietnam since 1963.

As the late Marguerite Higgins said, the destruction of the Diem government wiped out almost everyone in the country who had had any important experience in administration. Query: how do you advance "democracy" by killing off expertise?

* * *

If there is one generalization that can be made above all others, it is that Communists murder the opposition wherever they take power. Has Harriman forgotten the mass slaughter of the Polish army officers in the Katyn forest? Has he forgotten what happened in the Baltic provinces in 1940? A good estimate is that 70 million people have been killed by Communists since 1917.

The Washington Intelligence Report edited by Herbert Philbrick has added up the figures; they include the liquidation of seven million Cossacks, five million Byelorussians, seven million Ukrainians, a million or more North Caucasians and nine million Russians, to say nothing of a million Japanese prisoners of war and technicians caught in Manchuria. At least 30 million Chinese died because of Mao Tse-tung's taste for anti-Communist and non - Communist blood. If Chiang Kai-shek and his men hadn't escaped to Formosa, would they still be alive?

Does anybody in his right mind believe that the successors to Ho Chi Minh would be less likely to indulge in massacre than the men who taught nice old Uncle Ho his business? I'd like to give Averell Harriman a second chance to answer that question.

MUSIC GOOD FOR KIDS

CHICAGO (AP)—"Children should live life, not merely watch it," says Constance Wagner, a music education consultant.

"And, just as participating in sports builds young bodies, so can participating in entertainment—learning to play the piano, for instance—help develop youthful minds and personalities," she said.

With their parents' help, pre-schoolers can soon learn to recognize a waltz, tango, a march and so on.

"Such early experiences are invaluable to any child's full development," she added, "and particularly helpful to the boy or girl who takes up a musical instrument later."

Nixon's Handling Of Consumer Abuses Hit

By JOHN CUNNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Some advocates of consumer legislation, and maybe even some consumer-conscious members of the Nixon administration, are disappointed with the President's proposals to protect buyers from abuses in the marketplace.

The disappointment, as expressed by consumer groups, concerns the President's attitude toward so-called class suits, or actions by groups of aggrieved customers against a seller whom they felt has abused them.

This is the way Nixon's special assistant for consumer affairs, Mrs. Virginia Knauer, explained her view of class suits in a speech last month to the National Association of Manufacturers.

"When the consumer gets illegally taken in a purchase," she said, "the loss is generally lower than a lawyer's fee—the cost of taking the case to court is often prohibitive.

"We have an answer to that problem—class action. By joining together and sharing attorney and court costs, consumers can bring suit against a firm indulging in deceptive or fraudulent practices and obtain redress of damages in the federal courts.

"My office has drafted legislation to provide for these joint suits, and we hope it will be enacted by Congress."

Mrs. Knauer correctly anticipated that her stand would cause concern among the businessmen to whom her remarks were directed.

"Some businessmen have asked me whether this bill might not generate waves of 'ambulance chaser' type suits which would [illegible] harass business," she said.

She reminded [illegible] federal courts do not [illegible] 'ambulance chaser' cases. The honest, ethical manufacturers who produce safe, quality products and honor their guarantees have nothing to fear."

Mrs. Knauer, as subsequent events prove, went too far. In his consumer message last week the President said class action suits would be recommended, but only after the government had first successfully prosecuted offenders.

The limitation, he said, "would prevent harassment of legitimate businessmen by unlimited nuisance lawsuits."

Consumer affairs observers now ask if this means, by inference, that harassment of innocent consumers by the sale to them of faulty products is simply to be condoned without immediate recourse to the courts.

Perhaps unwittingly, the net effect of such a limitation could be to involve the federal government even more deeply in the marketplace as the potential guardian of the consumer, an [illegible] result of an attempt to keep the marketplace free.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
Pass	1 NT	Pass	3 NT

Opening lead—six of hearts.

Here is a fairly frequent type of hand. It is one in which declarer must decide very early what method of play to adopt.

West leads a heart and declarer can count seven sure tricks—two spades, two hearts, a diamond and two clubs. His other potential tricks depend upon the location of the king of hearts, the K-Q of diamonds and the queen of clubs, as well as the distribution in the minor suits.

One way of finding out about the king of hearts is by playing dummy's queen at trick one. When East follows low, it is reasonable to assume that West has the king.

Now comes the critical step. Two more tricks must be developed in the minor suits, and perhaps the natural inclination would be to tackle the longest and strongest suit—clubs.

But this would not be the safest thing to do. Suppose you led a club to the ace and another one back to the jack. If the finesse lost you would have only eight tricks, even though the suit proved to be divided 3-2. A heart return would then almost surely put you out of business.

Although you have more clubs than diamonds, it is better to tackle diamonds because this is a forward-going step that at the same time protects your heart position.

At trick two, declarer leads a low diamond and finesses the ten. West wins but cannot afford to return a heart, so let's say he shifts to a spade.

Declarer wins in dummy with the ace and leads a diamond to the nine. When the finesse succeeds, South cashes the ace but unfortunately the king does not fall.

Now the ace of clubs is followed by a club finesse and, even though the jack loses to the queen, South has his ninth trick in the form of his fourth club.

As happens so often, the correct order of plays makes the the contract.

CHALLENGE

I see by the Press and hear by radio that you are not letting the rest station die after all.

Please forgive me, if I'm asking, why ask for bids? That is prolonging the project. What happened to Project Pride? We had some energetic men at that time who got behind the wheel and pushed.

I realize a few of those men who worked so hard on that building have passed on. But haven't we some to replace them?

All this talk about landscaping, etc., is not important for now. Why not get this started now and have it ready for Dec. 1? It can be done.

I've started this subject and I would like to see it through now. Shopping will be in full swing by then, Dec. 1.

I challenge the City Council and Chamber of Commerce to not table this project until next meeting. I started this so if it's done so it is ready by that time I will contribute a chair to help with the furnishings.

Edith Kallie,
Wells

(Editor's Note: Even if a plan and financing would be agreed on immediately, the project probably couldn't be completed in time for Christmas shopping. Let's sail full steam ahead, but not so fast that the boat might sink after reaching the middle of the lake because in haste someone forgot to check for leaks.)

I'm fed up on my wife bluffing her way through life by calling herself a housekeeper. Our house looks OK at a glance, but don't open a closet or a drawer, or look under the bed or in the refrigerator, or go to the basement.

My wife doesn't cook, she defrosts. She's the world's best can-opener and is a very good customer of the carry-out place down the street. She doesn't press much either — almost everything is drip dry or Perma-press.

How does a man get his wife to pay more attention to the house? Nothing is ever in the same place twice. I have just about blown my mind looking for a stamp to mail this letter. — Disenchanted Ed

Dear Ed: I see you found it. Thanks for your perseverance. I wish I could do something to help, but it's hopeless. Your best bet is to show your lady love this column, tell her you wrote the letter and ask her what SHE is going to do about it?

Dear Ann Landers: For the first time in my life I experienced the death of a member of my immediate family. The relative was my mother and I am her sole heir.

My mother managed her own affairs. No general celebration will be held but it is the mayor's belief that the memory of the signing of the armistice should be kept green in the minds of all Americans, especially the youth of the land, who should be taught the meaning of the day.

Car, Trucks Hit, Three Injured

Three persons were injured shortly before 10 a. m. today in a collision involving a 1969-model automobile and two trucks on U. S. 2 at the Whitefish Hill east of Rapid River.

State Police said Charles E. Pearson, 63, of Salem, Ill., driver of the automobile, and two passengers, Albin S. Pearson Sr., 81, of Rte. 1, Escanaba, and Robert C. Pearson, 70, of 801 1st Ave. N., Wells, all were taken to St. Francis Hospital.

Extent of their injuries was not immediately determined, officers said.

Troopers said the accident happened when Pearson, who was eastbound on U. S. 2, attempted to make a left turn off the highway onto County Rd. 509 at the top of the hill. His car was struck in the left front by a milk tank truck driven by Duane C. Bohlman, 42, of Antigo, Wis. The impact spun the car around several times into the path of a second truck, also east bound, driven by Adelore E. LaPalm, 56, of Rte. 1, Wilson.

Bohlman and LaPalm escaped injury, officers said.

Bohlman's truck, however, ran off the right side of the road into the ditch and tipped on its side with the tank part of the vehicle blocking both lanes of the highway.

Troopers are continuing their investigation.

Assembley Line Houses Get OK From 3 Unions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three labor unions have agreed to build low-cost, prefabricated homes on an assembly line basis under a contract the government says provides a major start in overcoming the nation's housing shortage.

A three-bedroom house with one bath and all utilities would cost well under $10,000 according to a top official of the company that signed a contract with three building-trades unions Thursday to mass produce the structures.

George Romney, Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, hailed the contract as a significant start in reaching former President Lyndon B. Johnson's goal of 26 million new housing units in the next decade.

Romney's department Thursday also said another program aimed at both creating new housing and aiding the nation's poor was working.

HUD announced its venture of providing mortgage subsidies to help low-income families afford home ownership has passed the one-year mark with all the earmarks of success.

Some 16,500 families with average annual incomes of $5,000 own homes thanks to the program and the number is expected to triple by next June 30, HUD officials reported.

The pre-fabricated home contract calls for carpenters, plumbers and electrical workers to join in eventually producing 2,500 homes a year for Prestige Structures, Inc., of Charlotte, Mich.

Thursday's agreement marked a reversal in what has been opposition by the unions to mass-produced housing. Increasing popularity of mobile homes is considered one factor in the unions' reversal.

HUD has guaranteed to finance purchases of Prestige Homes, under the agreement.

Solons Divided Over Upcoming Moratorium

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate, although widely divided on the subject of the Vietnam war, is showing surprising unanimity in its reluctance to get involved publicly in next week's peace demonstrations in Washington.

Republican Charles Goodell of New York, one of the most outspoken doves, came close to an endorsement of the march when he called on the administration Friday to grant a permit for a parade down Pennsylvania Avenue.

But Goodell made it clear in a letter to Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and in a news conference that he was not supporting the three days of demonstrations and would not until convinced organizers are making every effort to prevent violence.

Goodell's position makes him virtually the only senator of either party to make any kind of gesture toward the demonstrations.

Many of those who supported the Oct. 15 moratorium have either been critical like Oregon Republican Mark Hatfield and Arkansas Democrat J. W. Fulbright or silent like Democrat George S. McGovern of South Dakota.

In contrast to Goodell, his fellow New York Republican, Jacob Javits, informed leaders of the Vietnam Moratorium Committee that he would not take part in any demonstrations.

Javits gave no reason in a telegram to the leaders. He said he had taken part last month and would "join again when I feel my participation is best for Vietnam peace objective."

Sit-In Controversy

Editor Backs Pair, But Co-Workers Don't

SAGINAW (AP) — Editor James P. Brown of the Saginaw News is supporting two reporters who demonstrated in sit-ins at Saginaw County Draft Board offices and then wrote stories about it.

But in the same paper in which the two won editorial support, Editor Brown published a letter signed by 186 other News employes who criticized the actions of the two reporters —Wade Stephens and Frank Koontz.

Brown said editorially the two reporters are "honest men … expressing their sentiments on one of the great issues of the day. They have that right."

The letter signed by other employes said:

"We members of all departments of the Saginaw News show our support for the members of the Selective Service Board in their efforts to carry out a difficult task."

Brown said he was glad the 186 employes had opposed the view of Stephens and Koontz and that the newspaper had been "embarrassed" by the Koontz and Stephens articles.

"But they did not compromise the integrity of our news columns," the editor said, adding that "freedom of speech and assembly are brothers of freedom of the press."

Stephens wrote his own account of his arrest in a sit-in Oct. 3

In an unsigned article, Stephens, a police reporter, identified himself by name and address and described his job as "an employe of the News."

Stephens quoted from a statement he handed the three-member draft board, criticizing the Vietnam War and demanding the board's resignation.

The article appeared in the Saginaw News the day after Stephens posted bond on trespass charges brought when he allegedly refused to leave the board's office at closing time.

Koontz, the newspaper's city hall reporter, staged his sit-in last Friday, but was not arrested when he left at closing time.

Koontz identified himself in his story as "a Saginaw News reporter" and said he did not want to violate any laws.

Six other young men, none of them associated with the News, have been arrested for trespassing in sit-ins at the board's offices.

Ask Telegram Bombardment To Back Nixon

HONOLULU (AP) — Western Republican leaders, standing behind President Nixon on Vietnam, want the American people to bombard him with telegrams of support during next week's protest demonstrations.

Cheers rang through the meeting of party officials from 13 western states when resolutions backing the President were read. Then the measures were unanimously adopted by the conference executive committee without debate.

It was the climax of two days of speeches by national and state officials backing Nixon's plan of gradual withdrawal from Vietnam. There was not a word of public criticism from the national committeemen and women and state chairmen, the people who run the party at the grassroots level.

The conference also asked the U.S. Senate to confirm Nixon's appointment of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth to the U.S. Supreme Court immediately.

And it adopted a resolution urging that private enterprise be given a bigger role in the development of the wide open and unused spaces of the Far West.

Conservationists want more of the western wilderness land closed to any development and kept under strict federal control. But the GOP resolution declared that mining, logging, ranching and recreation all have a place in the federally owned lands. The states, rather than Washington, should control development, the resolution said.

Too Much Knowledge Has Its Drawbacks

By ROBERT H. REED

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — If a little knowledge is indeed a dangerous thing, too much of it is killing. Especially if you're a young, childless housewife who wants to do something besides stay home.

My wife, for instance.

She heeded all these admonitions to "stay in school so you can get a good job," and stuck it out right through college.

Now she's probably smarter than me. But that's not what worries me most.

What worries me most is that she can't get a job.

She's too smart, the potential employers keep saying.

They're afraid she'll be bored, or demand higher pay, or lead a demonstration for more coffee breaks (although she never does at home).

Just the other day she applied for a position at a local office of a national chemical company. The interviewer took one look at the space on the application marked "education" and muttered: "You have a degree?"

Then he mumbled something about "seeing problems developing already."

He later told the employment agency, "I would have hired her but she had a college degree, so I hired a high school graduate."

Earlier, she applied at one of the South's largest credit companies and got the same treatment. The interviewer seemed interested until he asked the fatal question—education.

It shook him when she said she was a college graduate but the devastating blow came when she did well on the company intelligence tests.

"Sorry," he said, "but we're afraid you'll be bored."

"Maybe," she said later, "but I'd rather be a fixture in somebody's office than scrub fixtures at home."

Deciding that simple jobs were inaccessible, she tried for a more challenging position, but the results were the same—nothing.

A bank told her she had too much education for one job, but she couldn't start at a higher position because she'd have to work her way up from the first post.

By now she's decided that job interviewers must be in league with the antifeminists, and that her father could have better used his money training her to be a brick mason.

To paraphrase a famous ad: "To get a good job, you need a good education—but not too much."

BAG ELK — This father and son combination proved successful during a recent elk hunting trip to Seely Lake, Montana. George Chaillier Sr., of Danforth, left, shot a 450 pound spike horn bull, and his son George Jr., right, gunned down a 450 pound cow. According to George Sr., it took three men to haul each animal out of the woods. "And this was going downhill," he told the Daily Press.

Pesticide In Turkeys Keeps Probers Busy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government inspectors are making an intensive check of turkeys bound for the Thanksgiving market after finding traces of a powerful pesticide in tens of thousands of the birds.

Agriculture Department officials say they are confident no contaminated turkeys reached the retail markets, and that all turkey products in federally inspected processing plants are being checked.

The investigation began after residue of heptacholor, a long-lived pesticide ranking in toxicity with DDT, was discovered in a Minnesota processing plant Oct. 9. The department spokesman said the plant was using birds supplied by Arkansas Valley Industries, Ltd., headquartered at Little Rock.

Department officials said that of 150,000 birds checked on ranches supplying the Arkansas company, 90,000 were found to have residue traces and the rest were uncontaminated.

Another 150,000 live turkeys on farms supplying AVI are to be checked before they are released for slaughter.

Also being detained for checking in federally inspected processing plants are four million pounds of turkey meat.

Officials indicated the investigation extended to states other than Arkansas and Minnesota, but would not name them or the processors involved.

Food and Drug Administration regulations permit no traces of pesticide residue in meat and poultry products. Turkeys or turkey-products found to be contaminated are condemned.

Heptacholor is a pesticide that is frequently applied to the soil to kill grub worms and other insects.

Mary Jo Inquest Plan Stymied

EDGARTOWN, Mass. (AP) — The date for the inquest into the death of Mary Jo Kopechne will be set after a Pennsylvania court decides whether to allow exhumation of the girl's body for autopsy.

Judge James A Boyle, who will preside at the inquest in District Court in Edgartown, consulted Thursday with lawyers for Sen. Edward M. Kennedy and others expected to be witnesses.

Boyle later announced he would not set an inquest date until the Pennsylvania court ruling has been made.

A petition for exhumation of the body was filed in the court in Wilkes Barre, Pa., by Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis, who ordered the inquest.

United We Stand Plans Steamroll

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Dallas-based United We Stand campaign, urging support of President Nixon's Vietnam policy, is meeting an "overwhelmingly positive" response, a spokesman for its creator, H. Ross Perot, reports.

He said telephone calls from points as distant as Massachusetts and California have jammed lines at the office of United We Stand, Inc.

Full-page advertisements in newspapers this week urged Americans to back the President's efforts to end the war.

Perot, a Dallas computer magnate who paid for the ads, said Friday he did it "for the country" and not for President Nixon personally.

"We have one President and he's the only man who has the authority and the responsibility for the conduct of our foreign affairs," Perot said in an interview.

"The more united we are behind him, the more effective he (the President) is."

The ads reached readers in at least 50 key cities in all 50 states, a spokesman said, and a second ad, urging prayers Sunday for Vietnam prisoners-of-war again will go into 100 papers.

Requests from individuals have come in, and are being granted, to reprint the ad in smaller city newspapers, the spokesman said.

'Phantom' Has Town Buzzing Over $100 Gifts

STEPHENVILLE, Tex. (AP) — He's dark haired, in his 20s, probably bearded and driving a silver-green Pontiac. He gives away $100 bills.

Nobody knows why, except maybe the Indian, if he is an Indian, and he isn't telling.

It's a complete mystery to a college professor, a retired farmer, a service station attendant and a teen-age girl who got the bills.

"It's really weird," John Tackett, editor of the Stephenville Daily Empire, said Thursday. "We call him the Phantom Philanthropist."

He said residents of the Stephenville area, southwest of Fort Worth, still are 'buzzing with excitement over the possibility he may return and unload a $100 bill on them."

The mystery gifts were bestowed on four persons Sunday but the story only came to light after the recipients visited banks to check the legitimacy of the bills.

Larry Newlin, who pumps gas at a station in nearby De Leon, apparently was the first to catch the mystery man in his bountiful mood.

Newlin said the man gave him a $100 bill to pay for $6 worth of gas and told him: "You lucky boy, go ahead and keep the change."

Noting Newlin's dumbfounded look, the man added, "Go over their and see the Indian and he'll tell you what this is all about."

Newlin said he approached the man indicated, who was standing near the service station, and asked him for an explanation.

"No savvy," was all the man would say.

"It looks like you're $100 richer," a banker told Dr. Robert Fein, a science professor at Tarleton State College.

Fishing 'Good' In Spots Says Report Of DNR

Reports of good catches of coho salmon, steelhead, lake trout and brown trout are still being made to the Department of Natural Resources, according to the weekly report issued from the Newberry office.

Main roads are in good shape. Secondary roads in the west end of the district are fair; those in the eastern "clay country" are poor, officers report.

Grouse hunters report some "pats" being flushed but there is a considerable decline from 1968.

Most fishermen at present are concentrated around areas of good concentrations of steelhead, lake trout and coho.

Coho—Very good runs of coho have been observed in Thompson Creek and Milakokia River, Schoolcraft County; Pt. Paterson and Crowe Rivers, Mackinac County. They are probably off the mouth of many streams along the northern shore of Lake Michigan. Good numbers of coho are still found in the lower portion of the Carp River and have been reported in many of the smaller streams along the fringe of St. Martins Bay, Lake Huron. Some good catches of coho are still being made off Pendills and Halfaday Creeks in the Whitefish Bay area of Lake Superior, and an occasional fish is still being taken at the mouth of the Sucker River at Grand Marais and the Two Hearted River north of Newberry.

Steelhead (Rainbow) — Reports of some very nice fish being taken at Thompson Creek. Harrison Aten, Newberry caught a 13 pound rainbow here Nov. 2. Rainbow are also being taken at the Black and Carp Rivers, Mackinac County; Pendills and Halfaday Creeks, Chippewa County; Two Hearted and Blind Sucker Rivers, Luce County.

Lake Trout—Catches remain good for casters and trollers along the beaches at Deer Park, Luce County and at the mouth of Pendills Creek, Chippewa County.

Brown Trout — Some very nice fish are being caught at Thompson and Pendills Creeks.

Best baits for the four above mentioned species are silver type lures such as flat fish, tad-polies, rebel, repola, cleo, and daredevils.

Best catches have been reported in early morning and late afternoon and evening, however some fish are caught throughout the day.

Yellow Perch—When weather permits some fish have been reported from Big Manistique Lake and Emerson Bay of Lake Superior.

A recent fisheries inventory made in the Les Cheneaux area indicated very good populations of northern pike, herring and bullheads. All of which should be considered in supplying an outlet for frustrated fishermen. The pike fishery at present is under-exploited; the herring sport fishery is improving and few if any are fishing for bullheads. The latter are certainly not a common fishery in our northern Great Lakes waters.

Fire Protection Plan Deadline Set

The townships have been granted until Jan. 5, 1970 to decide if they want fire protection from the City of Manistique on a contract basis, city manager Robert Noe said Friday.

Noe said he had been contacted by Thompson Township Supervisor Lawrence Knuth who said the townships, Doyle, Manistique, Hiwatha, Inwood and Thompson) were willing to cooperate in the matter but need additional time.

In a letter dated Oct. 22, Noe advised the townships that fire protection services would be withdrawn unless some financial pay for the services. Increased costs in maintaining the service were cited as the prime factor in the decision, according to Noe's letter.

To continue the service, Noe asked the each township contribute a certain amount each year, based on assessed valuation. Doyle would pay $600; Manistique, $930; Thompson $900; Hiawatha, $1,600; and Inwood, $800.

One Local Youth Inducted, Others To Get Physicals

Terry Jasmin, Rte. 1, Manistique will be leaving Nov. 12 for induction into the U.S. Army according to Mrs. Ann Jorgenson, selective service clerk.

Also leaving Nov. 12 for pre-induction physicals will be Robert Hinkson, leader; Toddy Chambers, Patrick Faketty and Gene Baker, all of Manistique; Tracsford LaRose, Gulliver, and Allan Landis, Cooks. Randall Chandler has transferred to the Berryville, Va. office.

Dear Heloise:

I wonder if it has ever occurred to your readers that clothes hampers can be used for a lot of things besides storing soiled laundry?

Here are just a few times I had fun putting extra ones to good use:

Storing towels and washcloths, extra bed linens, socks and underwear, toys, things that need mending or that ironing you just aren't ready to tackle yet.

And they come in so many different sizes and colors that you can find one to match most any room in the house.

And I'm a fan of yours for giving our readers some more uses for these hampers.

Dear Heloise:

Here's an indoor basketball game for children on a rainy day:

Fold a plastic potato sack over a rounded coat hanger. Run string through the air holes to hold the sack on.

Then cut open the bottom end of the bag, turn the hanger hook up and hang it over a doorknob.

All that's needed, then, is a plastic or rubber ball to toss into it.

Dear Heloise:

Over the years, I have always dreaded the job of removing the thin membrane on the outer edge of liver, until I hit on the idea of doing it while the liver is frozen!

Make a small cut and grab it between thumb and knife. It peels away paper thin and also saves much of the liver that is usually cut away with the membrane if it's thawed.

A Reader

Dear Heloise:

The doorknob on our bathroom door banged against the wall whenever it was opened.

So I took a cotton - filled powder puff, ripped one side open, put it over the knob and sewed it closed.

No more noise now when anyone gets up at night to use the bathroom.

Dear Heloise:

Don't you just hate to put out all that money for a diaper bag when there is so much more you need for babies?

Try one of the insulated vinyl picnic bags. They come in bright colors and have a zipper top.

I've found they hold as much as the largest diaper bags and can usually be bought for a dollar or less.

Barbara Sheedlo Bride Of Daniel J. Stiglitz

The Calvary Baptist Church in Escanaba was the setting Friday, Oct. 10 for the 7 p. m. candlelight service uniting in marriage Barbara Ann Sheedlo and Daniel James Stiglitz.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Ronald MacDonell. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Sheedlo, 1328 N. 18th St. and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Tony Stiglitz of Stephenson.

Matron of honor for her sister was Mrs. William Wickham of Escanaba and best man was Leonard Buchouski of Powers. Seating the guests were William L. Sheedlo and William Wickham.

Lace Overlay

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street length nylon gown with a lace overlay and styled with a ruffled collar and jabot, bishop sleeves and scalloped hemline.

A headpiece of petals and pearl loops held her shoulder length bouffant nylon veil and she carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with pink roses.

Royal Blue

The matron of honor chose a royal blue crepe street length gown fashioned with three quarter length lace trimmed sleeves. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations and roses.

Mrs. Sheedlo wore for her daughter's wedding a light gray A-line knit dress with black accessories and she was presented a corsage of pink and white carnations.

Mrs. Stiglitz chose a gold and gray suit with black accessories and she pinned a corsage of yellow carnations. Mrs. Louis Eis and Mrs. John Sheedlo, grandmothers of the bride, were also presented corsages.

A dinner for members of the immediate family was held at the Terrace Supper Club following the ceremony. Assisting were Mrs. William Wickham, Mrs. William Sheedlo and Jamie Sheedlo. After a two week honeymoon trip to the west coast, the newlyweds are now at home at 322 S. 19th St.

The bride is a 1968 graduate of Escanaba Area High School and is employed by the First National Bank and Trust Co. Mr. Stiglitz is a 1962 graduate of Stephenson High School and is employed by Harnischfeger Corp.

Mrs. Dennis Atkinson (Lee's Studio)

Sally M. Couchene, D. M. Atkinson Wed

Sally Marie Couchene and Dennis Michael Atkinson of Milwaukee exchanged wedding vows during a ceremony performed Saturday, Oct. 18 at St. Anthony's Church in Wells.

Officiating at the nuptials at 2 p.m. was the Rev. Norbert Freiburger. Soloist and organist was Mrs. Willard Borman. Standards of large white mums adorned the church altar for the service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Couchene of Rte. 1, Escanaba and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Junior Atkinson of West Liberty, Iowa. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Reception

The reception for 250 guests was held at the Eagles Hall in Escanaba. Assisting were Paula Couchene, Janet Glenwood, Christa Couchene, Susan Couchene, Connie Couchene and Claudia Couchene.

Satin Gown

The bride wore for her wedding an Alfred Angelo original Victorian styled gown in white satin with Venise lace trim and fashioned with a high neckline, long full sleeves and a detachable chapel length train.

Her satin Camelot cap touched with Venise lace held her bouffant illusion veil and she carried a Dutch colonial bouquet of pink roses surrounded by white pompons and camellia foliage. During the ceremony the bride placed a single red rose at the altar of the Virgin Mary.

Chris Keifert of Milwaukee was the bridesmaid of honor and bridesmaid for her sister was Judy Couchene of Escanaba.

Velvet Trim

They were attired in Victorian style gowns of strawberry colored karate styled with high velvet trimmed necklines and puffed sleeves.

Cluster headpieces of petals and loops held their pouf veils and they carried Dutch colonial arrangements of white carnations with pink and cranberry Mexican star flowers on camellia foliage.

Serving as best man for his cousin was Terry Ruess of West Liberty, Iowa and groomsman was Dallas Sebos of Horicon, Wis. Seating the guests were Dick Ruess and Larry Atkinson of West Liberty.

Mothers' Attire

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Couchene wore a three piece wheat colored double knit suit with rust trim and matching accessories and Mrs. Atkinson selected a deep teal blue shimmer dress also with matching accessories. Both mothers were presented cymbidium orchid corsages.

Mrs. Dave Goertzen, grandmother of the bride and Mrs. Mary Kaalberg, the bridegroom's grandmother, were also presented corsages.

After a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination the couple will reside at 2746 W. Highland Blvd., Milwaukee. The bride is a graduate of Holy Name High School and Bryant and Stratton Business College. Mr. Atkinson is a West Liberty High School graduate and he also graduated from the Career Academy School of Broadcasting.

Pistons Defeat 76ers In Second Overtime Period

By The Associated Press

It took the Detroit Pistons a long time to get hot Friday night. Sixty minutes of regulation play and the first of two overtime periods, to be precise.

But the team came alive in the second extra session and finally downed the Philadelphia 76ers 134-12[illegible] in National Basketball Association action.

Elsewhere in the NBA, Phoenix beat Los Angeles 132-120 San Francisco nipped Boston 111-1[illegible]; New York [illegible] San Diego 129-111 and Baltimore downed Seattle 1[illegible].

By all rights, the Pistons should have lost the game. With the score tied 104-104 with [illegible] seconds of regulation play remaining, Philadelphia had the ball.

But the Pistons, led by Howard Komives, played scrappy defense and refused to let the 76ers get inside for a shot. The period ended with Hal Greer holding the ball for Philly.

Then in the first overtime with the score again tied, Philadelphia got the ball with just 27 seconds left on the clock. But the Detroit defense held up and the 76ers lost their chance to bag the game on a 24-second violation.

Jimmy Walker, playing his best game of the season, led Detroit scoring with 30 points. Ed Miles had 27, including four straight free throws in overtime.

Los Angeles not only lost a game, but also lost superstar Wilt Chamberlain, perhaps for the remainder of the season. His right knee crumpled under him during the game and the injury was diagnosed as a ruptured tendon under the knee cap.

But the 7-foot-2 Chamberlain went out in style. Before leaving the game, he scored 33 points, including 13 of 14 from the floor.

Most of the crowd of 6,[illegible] at Boston Garden thought San Francisco's John Williams fired his decisive field goal on a 20-foot jump shot after the 24 second clock had sounded. But rookie referee John Parker ruled that Williams had beat the clock. The ruling put the Warriors ahead 109-107 with just 45 seconds left to play.

Boston's John Havlicek was the game's high scorer with 31 points, and Jeff Mullins topped the Warriors with 26.

Willis Reeds scored 26 points and Walt Frazier 22 as New York won its 12th game in 13 starts and sent San Diego to its eighth straight defeat and ninth in 10 games. Elvin Hayes led San Diego with 25 points.

Baltimore built a 33-point halftime lead, then staved off a Seattle rally to win by 14 points. Bob Rule of Seattle was high scorer with 30 points. Earl Monroe led Baltimore with 25.

Brodie, Douglass Seek To End Streaks Sunday

By The Associated Press

Veteran San Francisco quarterback John Brodie, returning to a starter's role, and rookie signal-caller Bobby Douglass of the Chicago Bears will be aiming to end the longest winning and losing streaks in the National Football League Sunday.

Brodie is expected to get the nod over Steve Spurrier, who started for the 49ers the past two weeks, for the contest against the unbeaten Rams at Los Angeles.

The Roman Gabriel-led Rams have swept to seven straight victories, including a 27-21 triumph over the 49ers earlier in the year. However, in that one, the Rams had to score two touchdowns in the last quarter to escape. Brodie went all the way in that one and hit on 20 of 51 passes for 264 yards.

The 49ers, 1-5-1, are healthy but Los Angeles will be without offensive guard Joe Scibelli, lost for the season with knee surgery, and linebacker Myron Pottios, injured in an auto accident earlier this week.

Meanwhile, the Bears who have lost eight straight NFL games—seven this season—the most Chicago has ever lost in a row, will be at home and favored to make Pittsburgh, 1-6, their first victims of 1969.

Douglass, the newcomer from Kansas, will be making his third straight start. With Douglass at the controls, Gale Sayers, the Bears running ace, rebounding from knee surgery, has come on with two consecutive 100-yard plus games on the ground. Sayers swept for 114 yards last week and is now the No. 4 rusher in the league with 445 yards.

Terry Hanratty, who passed for three touchdowns on 14 of 28 before being shaken up in the fourth quarter of the Steelers 38-34 loss to Green Bay Sunday is expected to start. It will be the Notre Dame rookie's third start of the year.

Other games Sunday have Century Division leader Cleveland, 5-1-1, at Minnesota, 6-1, the top club in the Capitol Division; New York, 3-4, at St. Louis, 2-4-1; Green Bay, 5-2, at Baltimore, 4-3; New Orleans, 1-6, at Dallas, 6-1; Philadelphia, 3-4, at Washington, 4-2-1; and Atlanta, 2-5, at Detroit, 4-3.

The Browns, who slammed Dallas 42-10 last week and ended the Cowboys' unbeaten string at six, will be out to stop the red-hot Vikings, who have won six straight after an opening game loss to the Giants.

The Browns-Vikings match could be a preview of the NFL title match on Jan. 4. The teams met in an exhibition in Akron, Ohio last September with the Vikings eking out a 23-16 decision.

Green Bay, one game behind the Vikings in the Capitol Division, must get past the Colts to stay in contention. The Packers play the Vikings in Milwaukee next Sunday. However, Baltimore comes off its most impressive victory of 1969, a 41-17 triumph over Washington last week.

Junior Varsity Gridders To Bolster Local Squads

By MIKE UTT

Joe Moberg, John Vogt, John Noblet, Joe Hughes, Tom Dehlin and Richard Miketinac—who are these people? What do their names mean?

Well, football fans in the Escanaba and Gladstone areas, take a good look at those names—they may be the names of the football players who will be making the headlines in the next few years.

A total of 57 seniors closed out their high school football careers at Escanaba, Holy Name and Gladstone high schools this season and this is enough to make any coach want to start pulling the hair out of his head.

Players like those mentioned above may be just what is needed to save some coach's hair this fall and if they are able to combine their talents with a fine crop of returning veterans, the three schools may not be in as much trouble as a lot of people may think.

Escanaba will lose starting quarterback Bob Gauthier this season and his place in the lineup is expected to be filled by Tom Kangas, who made some brief appearances this season. Kangas may hold the starter's role, but Miketinac, a sophomore now, is sure to see plenty of action.

Running backs seemed to be a major problem this past season for the Eskymos because of injuries and inexperience, but a pair of sophomores may change the picture next season. Vogt and Noblet showed a lot of talent in leading the Eskymo junior varsity to a perfect 9-0 season and a first place finish in the Great Northern Conference standings. Both have fairly good size, each going about 5 feet 11 inches and 155 to 160 pounds, and Noblet will be the only fullback on the Eskymo roster.

Other players singled out by Jerry Cvengros, the Eskymo coach, as possible varsity performers are Bruce Belanger and Mike Winters, ends; Mark Blazek, defensive halfback; and Mike Pryal, tackle.

Holy Name will lose one of the top running backs in the whole Upper Peninsula in Dan Young and Doug Bovin, the Crusader coach, is hoping that Joe Moberg will be able to step in and help returning veteran Tom Ness with some of the ball carrying load next season.

Moberg was the Crusader junior varsity team's top rusher and leading scorer this season. The 5 foot 8 inch, 175-pound powerhouse scored 92 points, eight more than Young.

Cliff DeSalva, who didn't even play football during his freshman year, proved to be a real find as a quarterback this season. Holy Name will lose Bob McGinn and Don Cousineau through graduation and DeSalvo showed plenty of poise and a fine passing arm as a junior varisty regular.

Also counted to bolster the Crusader forces next season will be glue-fingered end Joe Hughes, lanky Jim Joran, running backs Bill Skradski and Steve Sharkey, defensive halfback Noel Gannon and linemen Rick Belanger, Dave Lundin, Tom Sankovitch and Phil Derusha.

Gladstone loses some top linemen in Tom Pfotenhauer and Gary Goodman, but Don Pfotenhauer, recently retired Braves' coach, thinks that 200-pound sophomore Gary Lewis and 170-pound Tom Dehlin may be able to help make up for their departure.

Pfotenhauer also feels that Terry Cartwright will be a big asset in the backfield along with David McKnight and Randy Coleman and John Lindberg may be able to give some help in the line.

The above mentioned players are only a few of the many new players that local football fans will be able to watch in action next fall. All three junior varsity rosters had many other fine athletes and should be able to make a fine showing when they take the field for the respective schools in varsity uniforms during the 1970 grid campaign in the Upper Peninsula.

Reports Claim Hull To Return

TORONTO (AP) — The Globe and Mail says Bobby Hull has reached an agreement with a lawyer for Chicago Black Hawks but the National Hockey League club is stalling on final acceptance of the agreement.

The newspaper quotes the all-star left winger as saying he has been ready to skate since Wednesday.

"My lawyer and I are in accord with a new agreement we reached with Arthur Morse, the Hawks' lawyer. But the team is stalling on okaying the agreement."

Hull, who should be working in the second year of a four-year contract worth about $100,000 a year, had refused to play because he said the club refused to honor part of the contract.

He told the newspaper the Hawks asked him to play himself into shape by reporting to Dallas in the Central League, but he refused.

He contends he has kept in shape by working during the summer on his farm near Picton, Ont.

Big Ten Bowl Contenders Stamped Favorites Today

CHICAGO (AP) —Unless racially troubled Indiana stumbles against underdog Iowa, the Big Ten's Rose Bowl troika should prolong the snarl gripping a Pasadena bid in Saturday's conference football program.

Michigan, Purdue and Indiana—the Hoosiers minus 10 suspended Black players—each carries a 3-1 league record into the season's third-from-final round.

Each is stamped a favorite, Michigan by 21 points at winless Illinois; Purdue by two touchdowns as host to Michigan State (1-3); and Indiana by eight points against invading Iowa (1-3).

No.1 Ohio State, ineligible for a Rose Bowl encore, is a prohibitive favorite against Wisconsin (2-2) at Columbus, Ohio, where the Badgers haven't tasted victory since 1918.

Northwestern (2-2) is an eight point underdog at Minnesota (1-3) which scored its first victory of the season with a 35-8 upset of Iowa last Saturday.

Until Coach Johnny Pont suspended black players for skipping practice two successive days, his Hoosiers seemed in excellent position to grab the Rose Bowl bid.

Indiana escaped meeting Ohio State this fall, a fate still awaiting Purdue next Saturday and Michigan in a Nov. 22 windup.

Linebacker Mike Adams, one of the suspended players, will be missed against the free-wheeling Hawkeyes and there is a possibility that Hoosier hotshot halfback John Isenbarger may be troubled by bruised hips. His backup man, Bob Pernell, is another suspended player.

Unofficially, Ohio State is a 42-point pick to swamp the Badgers for the Buckeyes' seventh straight victory this fall and their 21st in a row since mid-1967.

Rex Kern, brilliant quarterback, is off the Buckeye injury list and may roll up the 230 yards he needs for a school total offense record. Wisconsin's feeble hope for an upset rests mainly on the passing of Neil Graff and running of fullback Alan Thompson.

Mike Phipps, is expected to maintain Purdue's unblemished home record during the star passer's three seasons at quarterback as Michigan State unveils a new quarterback.

The Spartan signal-caller will be Steve Piro, son of a former Syracuse team-mate of MSU coach Duffy Daugherty, with Bill Triplett shifting from field general to flanker.

Against hapless Illinois, Michigan will unleash an exceptional one-two tailback punch in Billy Taylor, sudden-blooming star, and Glenn Doughty, whose earlier injury gave Taylor his chance. Taylor and Doughty have gained 901 yards between them in seven games.

Cook, Bengals Tackle Houston

By The Associated Press

The Cincinnati Kid is back in town with the hot hand and a Chip on his shoulder.

Greg Cook, Cincinnati's quick-dealing rookie quarterback who came back form injury last week and found a new accomplice in pass catcher Chip Meyers, leads the Bengals against Houston in a key American Football League game Sunday.

Houston, two games behind New York and slowly sinking in the East, will have to flush out the blue chip rookie, who unloaded two touchdown passes to Meyers last week in the 31-17 stunner over Oakland's powerhouse.

New York, led by their ace-in-the-hole, quarterback Joe Namath, has a seemingly easy touch, playing Buffalo before a full house at home.

Elsewhere Sunday, Kansas City, the Western Division leader& hosts San Diego; Oakland, a half-game behind the Chiefs, plays at home to Denver, and Miami visits Boston, with its usual Pat hand.

Cook's return to the lineup last week helped the Bengals crack a four-game losing string and gave the team more victories—four—than it had all last season.

However, the cool-headed youngster will be dealing with a Houston team that is hard to beat at home. The Oilers have knocked over three foes without a loss in the Astrodome this year.

Don Trull, who rallied the Oilers from behind in a four-quarter victory against Denver earlier this year, will replace Pete Beathard as the starting Quarterback this Sunday. Coach Wally Lemm announced the change after Beathard was ineffective against Boston last week.

He could have some trouble solving the Bengals' vulture-like defensive crew, which picked off five passes against Oakland last week.

New York goes after a club record six straight victories against the Bills and workhorse O.J. Simpson. Namath after Incredible 1968, is having a so-so passing year. But he's always dangerous and field goal kicker Jim Turner is another offensive threat for the talent-rich Jets.

Namath and Co. will have to exploit Buffalo's shaky defense, weakened by the loss of safetyman George Saimes, out indefinitely with a knee injury.

San Diego's pass game, punctured by Denver's pointed rush, will try to rebound against Kansas City. Quarterback John Hadl, 8 for 20 and 82 yards as San Diego suffered its first shutout since 1961 last week, will have to be on his toes against Kansas City's [illegible] [illegible].

Oakland will try to bounce back after its humiliation by Cincinnati with quarterback Daryle Lamonica in the driver's seat, and slippery Bob [illegible] [illegible] against Denver's [illegible].

Rangers' Six Blasts Seals

OAKLAND (AP) — The New York Rangers had a chance to move into first place in the East Division of the National Hockey League—and it took them only 20 minutes to take advantage of it.

New York scored six times in the first period Friday night and blasted Oakland 8-1 in the only NHL game scheduled.

The Rangers' victory moved them a point ahead of Boston, Detroit and Montreal.

The Rangers have won four times in four starts against West Division clubs and faced the Los Angeles Kings in an afternoon game today at the Los Angeles Forum.

The game was changed from night, as originally scheduled, because the Kings' owner, Jack Kent Cook, who also owns the Forum, booked a concert by the Rolling Stones there for tonight.

In other games Toronto is at Montreal tonight, Boston at Detroit, Chicago at Pittsburgh and St. Louis at Minnesota.

New York had 45 shots on goal to Oakland's 19 and used 17 of these in the first period when Juha Widing, Arnie Brown, Bill Fairbairn, Rod Gilbert Dave Balon and Jean Ratelle scored against goalie Gary Smith.

The Rangers were leading 3-0 when Ted Hampson made Oakland's lone score at 8:28.

Coach Fred Glover switched Charlie Hodge into the Oakland goal-tending spot at the opening of the second period, and Walt Tkaczuk scored on the first New York shot against Hodge.

Brown knocked in the eighth goal for New York in the third period, Fairbairn getting his third assist on the play.

Buckeyes Playing Two TV Contests

NEW YORK (AP) — The Ohio State-Purdue game will be televised nationally by the American Broadcasting Co. Nov. 15, the network announced Thursday.

ABC also announced that a week later, the top-ranked Buckeyes' game against Michigan at Ann Arbor will be one of four games televised regionally.

Saints Capture Conference Title

ST. IGNACE — The St. Ignace Saints upended Charlevoix 20-14 to capture first place in the Michigan-Huron Shores Conference for the second year in a row. The victory left the Saints with a 7-2 record for the season.

[illegible]

CARNEY — [illegible] Wolves [illegible] 1969-70 debut at home against the Hermansville Bobcats.

The Wolves lost five players through graduation last year, including Tim Moran, an All-U. P. selection and the leading scorer in Carney High School history. Also missing from last year's squad will be Dennis Lundquist, the team's top rebounder, Gerry Guard, Dave Lampinen and Paul Polfus.

Back for another season with Ron Solberg, who will be starting his second season at the helm of the Wolves, will be Don Anderson, John Perras, Martin Laurin, Bob Polfus, Mike Charlier and Dave Waldo. Anderson has been elected captain for the coming season and Perras was a regular forward last year.

New players answering the call this season were Ed Benson, Mike Barasko, Ed Jenkins, Mike Dziedzic and Tom Bluhnik. Benson is a 6 foot 5 inch sophomore who is being counted on to take over the chores as the regular center.

"We lost some fine players through graduation," said Solberg "but I think we have some solid players returning. Our league should be tougher this year and we will have to hustle and work hard to be consistent winners."

Perras scored 230 points as a regular last year and ranked third behind Moran who had 390 and Lundquist who had 251.

Assisting Solberg this season will be Gary Hauswirth, a graduate of Hancock High School and Northern Michigan University.

Nicklaus Keeps Lead In Hawaiian Tourney

HONOLULU (AP) — Jack Nicklaus held a four-stroke lead today after the third round of the $125,000 Hawaiian Open golf tournament, was a prohibitive favorite to annex his third consecutive title—and was far from satisfied.

"If you'd asked me before I started the round if I would be satisfied with 71, I would have said yes," Nicklaus said Friday after scrambling in with a one-under-par round.

"But after the way I played the front nine, I can't say I'm satisfied. I got pretty sloppy on the back nine."

Nicklaus, who now has played 14 consecutive subpar rounds and has led or shared the lead in the last seven competitive rounds, had a 36 hole total of 134, 10 under par after two trips over the 7,000 yard, par 72 Waialae Country Club course.

Well back in second were Tom Weiskopf and Ken Still, tied at 138. [illegible] second round [illegible] a 71. Two more strokes back at 140 were Herb Hooper, John Schroeder and Jack McGowan.

In the group at 141 were Bob [illegible], who had the best round of the day, a 67, [illegible] 69, and [illegible].

"That's the most [illegible] round I've ever played," said Palmer, who missed at least five putts three feet or shorter. Archer had a 71 for 142 and defending champion Lee Trevino a 73 for 146.

Two major title-holders failed to make the cut for the final two rounds. It took a score of 148 to make it and PGA champ Ray Floyd had a 149 and U.S. Open title-holder Orville Moody had a fat 154.

The blustery Trade Winds, with gusts nearly 30 miles an hour, played havoc with the scores and was the reason Nicklaus said he originally would have been satisfied with a 71.

Big Jack opened [illegible], going birdie, bogey, birdie, bogey before settling down. He then ran in putts of [illegible], [illegible] and 20 feet on three of the next four holes and made the turn in 32, three under par.

11. Business Opportunities

THIS IS NOT VENDING

SPORTSMEN

The nation's largest franchise organization has a limited number of new opportunities for the sportsminded man or woman to get into the field that they enjoy the most.

We need an ambitious individual who would like to reap the rewards of the ever-increasing recreation explosion — a person who is aspiring to earnings well over $1,000 per month.

This is one of the most amazing, but fun businesses you'll ever have an opportunity to look into.

You do need at least $1,647.50 to $3,547.50 cash to start.

Attend the Church [illegible]

If only I had been born with the ability to reason and all the wisdom great decisions require.

Then I'd ask Daddy to teach me a prayer.

And I'd ask Mommy to read me a Bible story.

And, if nobody offered to take me, I'd walk myself

[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

And, from what I hear, some of the same get off the ground.

[illegible] . . . SOMEBODY . . . plan my orbit.
